Re: CISRO-UQO Graduate Project Management Program

Dear Dr Assogbavi,

I am delighted to confirm the collaboration of the CISRO Institute of Management (CISRO) and the Université du Québec en Outaouais (UQO) in offering the Graduate Project Management (GPM) Program. Through this effort, we will be able to more effectively achieve our goal of helping adult learners fulfill their career objectives.

We are especially pleased that our collaboration with CISRO will enable us to offer the Masters Degree in Project Management to GPM graduates, who will be eligible to transfer up to 15 credits toward this degree. UQO's Masters Degree in Project Management Program, offered in English, can be completed by these transfer students in one academic year.

Our partnership with CISRO will open our doors to new groups of motivated men and women, committed to the highest levels of achievement in the field of project management. Our long and extensive involvement in international education will enable us to provide a truly global perspective to students enrolled in our program. The relationship with CISRO creates a dynamic new dimension within our English-language academic programs.

We can assure you that GPM graduates who transfer to our campus in Gatineau will find a friendly, supportive and rewarding quality of student life. We look forward to welcoming these students in the near future.

Regards
